From the Office of the SJDT Sugar Plum Society

Every ballet company has two theaters. There's the one you buy a ticket to that everyone sees: the lights, the snow, the bows. And there's the other one: the rosin box in the wing, the long nights of rehearsals, the Thursday night the dancers run it clean for an empty house, the moment an academy dancer finds out someone paid for their season and doesn't know who.

This is your invitation into that Second Theater.

Dancers rise through a company one rank at a time from corps, to soloist, to principal and nobody gets there by asking. Members of our Society rise the same way. Seven ranks, each carrying everything beneath it, each adding something you can't buy: early access, a relationship with the art, or your name attached to the work. No tote bag. No mug. Nothing on this list is something you can ask for in a gift shop.

By joining the Sugar Plum Society, you're supporting art and artists in our city. $100 supports the conditioning equipment and staff that keep our dancers healthy and active, $500 creates new costumes for more productions, $1000 subsidizes a semester of training for a dancer in our academy. $5000 pays for an entire class of local school children to see our Once Upon a Nutcracker performance. And the benefits only skyrocket from there. Your donations change lives and create more artists right here in our community.

So show your support for our mission to bring the arts to as many children as we can from all corners of the South Bay.

Join the SJDT Sugar Plum Society today! We're counting on you!
